By JACKIE GREEN

MUMS stocking up on frozen goods from their local Iceland were stunned to see a couple of ladies having LESBIAN SEX on the pavement outside.

Cops were called to the scene outside the store in Swindon, Wilts, where two women were allegedly undressing each other and performing sexual acts in a 20-minute-long romp.

Wiltshire Police confirmed that two women have been arrested on suspicion of indecent exposure.

Is THAT why mums go there?

Starmer fury at Abbott's 'antisemitism'

KEIR Starmer claims Labour has made 'significant progress' on tackling antisemitism under his leadership. The Labour leader was appearing on ITV's This Morning, and the first question he got was about Diane Abbott.

He said that party took "swift action" over her letter to The Observer, and that it was "very important to me" that it did.

Abbott said the 'prejudice' faced by Jewish people was not racism of the same kind that black people encounter.

Starmer added that he believed what Abbott wrote was antisemitic.

He said it is "frustrating" that this story had distracted attention from his local election campaigning.

"We want to focus on stopping violence against women and girls this week," Starmer added.

Hosepipe ban season starts

A HOSEPIPE ban has come into force across large parts of Devon.

South West Water said the extended restriction would replenish supplies at Roadford reservoir ahead of the summer.

The utility said about 390,000 homes in Devon would be affected.

An initial ban, which is still in place after being introduced in August 2022, covers Cornwall and a small part of north Devon.

Towns and a city, including Plymouth, Barnstaple, Tavistock and Torquay, are all in the new water restriction area.

RUN? THE OLD BUGGER CAN HARDLY WALK!

JOE Biden has formally announced he will run for a second term as US president.

The announcement of his run for the 2024 election comes four years to the day since he declared his initial bid for the White House by promising to heal the "soul of the nation" amid the turbulent administration of former president Donald Trump.

Already the oldest president in history - Mr Biden would be 86 at the end of a second term. Mr Biden said in a video message: "Freedom. Personal freedom is fundamental to who we are as Americans. There's nothing more important. Nothing more sacred."

Biden to stand for re-election

"That's been the work of my first term: To fight for our Democracy. This shouldn't be a red or blue issue."

"And this is our moment. So if you're with me, go to JoeBiden.com and sign up. Let's finish this job, I know we can. Because this is the United States of America.

"And there's nothing we can't do if we do it together."

Biden's decision to run for office again comes despite growing fears he's not up to the job.

He's frequently fallen over, forgotten who or where he is, sniffed children and, infamously, shat himself while meeting the Pope.

Borrowing not as bad as feared

THE UK government borrowed less than expected last year, despite supporting households with their energy bills and facing higher borrowing costs.

Borrowing, the difference between spending and tax income, was estimated at £139.2bn in the year to 31 March, official figures show.

That was £18.1bn more than in 2021-22 but less than the £152bn predicted by the government's forecaster last month.

It gives government "wiggle room" ahead of the next election, one analyst said.

Borrowing for the 2022-23 financial year was equivalent to 5.5% of the value of the UK economy - the highest percentage since 2014, excluding the pandemic.

Borrowing last month was £21.5bn, the second-highest March borrowing figure since records began.

The ONS said a rise in tax receipts was offset by spending on energy support for households.

The government has also been borrowing more to cover the interest on its debt.

£301 payout for poorest

LOW-income households are now starting to receive the latest cost-of-living payment from the government to tackle ongoing high bills.

Eight million means-tested benefits claimants, including people on Universal Credit, should receive the £301 instalment between now and 17 May.

Further payments will come in the autumn and next spring. All will be transferred automatically.

The payments come as food prices rise at their fastest rate for 45 years.

The cost of the supermarket shop has kept inflation stubbornly high in the UK. A typical household's energy bill also remains at £2,500 a year, although all of these bills are expected to drop later in the year.

RESCUE MISSION: The RAF are active in Sudan

PULLED OUT OF THE SHIT

Brits evacuated from war-torn Sudan as streets flood with sewage

A "DANGEROUS" mission to evacuate Britons from Sudan began yesterday with 4,000 UK passport holders stranded after heavy fighting.

RAF planes flew from their base in Cyprus into an airfield outside Khartoum and priority was given to families with children, the elderly and people with medical conditions.

It is a race against time as there are fears over whether a 72-hour ceasefire, which began late on Monday, will hold.

Britons will also have to reach the airfield themselves - potentially encountering lingering fighting - as no escorts are being provided.

The foreign secretary, James Cleverly, said it was "impossible for us to predict how long this opportunity will last".

Around 1,400 military personnel are believed to be involved in the UK operation.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Prime Minister Rishi Sunak tweeted that RAF aircraft were involved in the "large-scale evacuation" and called it a "complex operation".

Mr Cleverly said trapped Britons in Sudan are being contacted directly - and they are being told not to go to the airfield unless they are called.

Chaotic

"This is an active conflict, a ceasefire has been announced but we know there have been pockets of violence even within previous ceasefires," he said. "So it does remain dangerous, this does remain difficult."

"We are providing what assistance we can and we are operating as quickly as we can."

He also said the situation was "fundamentally different" to the chaotic evacuation of thousands of people from Kabul when the Taliban seized control of Afghanistan in 2021.

About 4,000 UK passport holders are thought to be trapped in the east African country as rival military factions battle for control.

In the capital, Khartoum, conditions are grim, with the streets filling with trash and sewage.

Eiman ab Garga, a British-Sudanese gynaecologist who works in the UK, was visiting the capital with her children when the fighting began.

She was evacuated to Djibouti last night on a flight organised by France.

They hurried her departure, out of security concerns, and she wasn't able to say goodbye to her father, mother or sister.

"The country is dirty, there's rubbish all over it," she said.

"There's sewage overflowing it smells so now we're next going to have an outbreak of illness and disease and there won't be a hospital to go to there. We're just looking at death and destruction and destitution."

Hundreds of people have died since the fighting started on April 15 and the evacuation comes after days of pressure for a plan to get Britons out.

THE Prince of Wales commemorated Australia and New Zealand's war dead in a dawn service marking Anzac Day yesterday.

Hundreds of Australians, New Zealanders, and military personnel watched as William laid a wreath of red poppies and white flowers at Hyde Park Corner.

The message on the wreath read: "In memory of those who made the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom."

He wore a red poppy

during the service, and bowed briefly to the wreath before standing in silent tribute.

During the service High Commissioner for Australia Stephen Smith and his New Zealand counterpart Phil Goff also laid wreaths. Digeridoo music was played as well as The Last Post.

Anzac Day marks the anniversary of the start of the First World War Gallipoli landings, and is a national day of remembrance for Australia and New Zealand.

Probably swallowed a lot more from other sources...

REALITY TV scorcher Dani Dyer was left squirming during her new travel show as she gulped down SPERM.

The former Love Island winner was seen sampling tuna semen during the first episode of Absolutely Dyer: Danny and Dani do Italy on E4, which she filmed with her actor father Danny, 45.

The father-daughter duo were seen in Sicily after they touched down on the island to sample the local culture, art and food.

There they visited an open-air food market where ex-EastEnders star Danny said they sample some seafood.

However, Dani, 26, got more than she bargained for when her dad insisted she sample tuna jizz, with Dani exclaiming: "I'm going to spew!" before she even put some in her mouth.

Dani refused to give it a go at first, but her Human Traffic actor dad insisted: "Get it down ya!"

Dani forced herself to eat a small sample, to which an amused Danny looked on and said:

"How lovely is that? It's rare that I would be proud of you eating sperm, but on this occasion, I do congratulate you."

But Dani hit back: "I don't like sperm!"

Many viewers were impressed by Dani but some sexists could not resist making off-colour gags and the worst of the misogynistic abuse was found on the website of the Daily Mail.

One reader leered: "Probably swallowed a lot more from other sources," while another slavered: "Definitely not the first time she's ate it!"

A pal of Dani said: "There is simply no need for these vile comments."

A LIFE-sized bust of the King has been made from more than 30 pints of melted Celebrations chocolates amid the build-up to the coronation.

The bust – which weighs over 50lb and took four weeks to create – was designed by an expert team of chocolatiers and model makers who carefully planned how to make the profile view of Charles look as close as possible to the image of him which will soon grace stamps, coins and bank notes.

Different chocolates from the confectionery brand have added sweet touches to elements of the bust.

Horny rap star is arrested for plane w*nking

RAP star Designer has been hit with an indecency charge for furiously masturbating on an international flight and claiming he exposed himself just because he "didn't have sex in like a week".

The 25-year-old Panda performer (above) – real name Sidney Royel Selby III – was charged with indecent exposure over allegations he exposed himself multiple times, starting about an hour into a Delta flight from Tokyo to Minneapolis on April 17.

After a flight attendant spotted him exposing himself, he quickly covered up, only to be caught masturbating five minutes later by flight crew members.

But even after he was told he was going to be arrested, Selby was seen exposing himself for a third time, authorities say.

Two travel buddies agreed to watch him the rest of the flight and when he was moved from first class to the back of the plane "a jar of Vaseline dropped in the aisle", the complaint states.

Before he was taken into custody, he also apologised to the flight crew.

When talking to the FBI, he allegedly told an agent he "didn't get much" in Japan and had showed his "magic stick" to a flight attendant he found attractive.

FELLAS just can't get enough of gorgeous Rachel Weisz

So there is a real treat in store with Amazon's new drama series.

Because in the show, Rach plays TWO parts – identical twin docs Elliot and Beverley Mantle.

But for all the delight in seeing Ms Weisz, there's horror involved...

Because the twins are fanny doctors and there is minge gore involved! A LOT of it.

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

The series is a remake of David Cronenberg's 1988 psychological thriller and is written by Alice Birch, of Normal People fame.

In the original, the twins were male, with both roles played by actor Jeremy Irons.

But the new remake is an all-girl affair.

The Mantle twins share everything... drugs, lovers, and an unapologetic desire to do whatever it takes – including pushing the boundaries of medical ethics – in an effort to bring women's health care to the forefront.

There is also a bit of lezzing-up action in the new drama but, it has to be said, there's a lot of stuff that could possibly put you off your tea.

OK... ladies' plumbing may make you a bit queasy so, to settle your stomach, here are the stars of the new show with their very nice busters out.

Now Trump faces sexual assault trial

FORMER US President Donald Trump is facing a civil trial over an allegation he raped an advice columnist nearly three decades ago.

Jury selection began yesterday in a New York federal court.

Mr Trump (above) has denied E Jean Carroll's accusation that he attacked her in a Manhattan department store. He has said she made up the claim for publicity.

Though this is not a criminal case, the consequences for Mr Trump could still be serious.

If Ms Carroll wins the lawsuit, it would be the first time the former president, who has been the subject of more than two dozen such allegations, would be found legally responsible for a sexual assault.

Trump is facing a wave of other legal troubles, including more than two dozen felony counts over payment of hush money to porn star Stormy Daniels and an investigation into his alleged role in the US Capitol riot on January 6, 2021.

PIC posed by dog model

A PERVERT who filmed himself masturbating in a Tesco car park performed KINKY SEX ACTS with a high-heeled shoe, a chair, and even his pet DOG.

Steven Smith, 40, had 18 previously admitted sexual offences in front of magistrates in Chester prior to his sentencing at Chester Crown Court.

He also admitted breaching a notification requirement while on bail last month, giving his former address in Frodsham, Cheshire, as his place of residence, when he'd since moved out of the area and was of no fixed abode.

Recorder of Chester Judge Steven Everett said Smith's behaviour was "truly disgusting and truly depraved", but was "just" minded to suspend a 22-month prison sentence.

Devices

Prosecutor Peter Hussey said police, acting on intelligence, visited Smith's home in May 2021 and seized several devices. Of those, a number of indecent photos and videos were recovered from Smith's mobile.

They included a 10-second video of him having sex with his pet dog, plus 55 images and videos of him performing sex acts with the same dog, categorised as extreme porn.

Also on the phone were 29 videos of Smith filming himself doing solo sex acts.

These included videos of himself performing sex acts while parked at a busy lay-by with cars passing by, at a Tesco car park with his car door open, standing naked in his living room window, in view of other properties and while naked and driving.

Several videos were also at his place of work, a Suzuki car dealership in Crewe, Cheshire, one of which showed two members of the public and a member of staff in the background while Smith performed a solo sex act.

Other videos at his workplace included a sex act involving a high-heeled shoe and one with a chair.

Police went to Smith's workplace where two colleagues confirmed the relevant locations from the videos where the workplace footage was filmed.

An internal probe was carried out and Smith was asked to resign, which he did so.

Defender Mark Connor said: "He is trying to understand why he behaved in this risky, thrill-seeking way."

Smith expressed remorse and was "utterly ashamed" of what he had done, and had lost two jobs and many friends since the offences came to light.

Troubling

Judge Everett said it was "astonishing" no-one saw Smith in the act, and added: "It's awful - recording yourself doing it as well. It's a very troubling case in that regard."

Judge Everett also said the public would be "horrified" that Smith carried out sex acts with his own pet dog, as well as sex acts in public.

The judge sentenced Smith to 12 months for the exposure and outraging public decency offences, eight months for having distributed an indecent video and other indecent image offences, plus two months for intercourse with the dog.

Smith was also placed on a 10-year Sexual Harm Prevention Order.

The firm said its overall pricing increased by 9.8% over the quarter as it sought to pass on the impact of "significant cost inflation".

Pete: sex turned me bonkers!

POP hunk Peter Andre says too much sex sent him over the edge.

The singer, 50 (above), sought psychiatric help at the age of 25 after he descended into a "blur of nightclubs and groupies", before spending six years in psychiatric units and on medication.

While the Mysterious Girl hitmaker insisted he never touched drugs during the hedonistic days of his youth, he admits he lost himself while he had "a lot of casual sex".

Reality star Peter added that his shirtless posing and "arrogance" was all part of it as he sought out external validation and acceptance.

He claims he still suffers with brain fog panic attacks to this day after his past poor mental health, while he developed agoraphobia – a fear of going out – and vertigo.

Peter said: "It was an insecurity thing, trying to prove a point because of the years that you weren't accepted."

"I don't like who I became when I was just going with girls and not caring. I just went off on a tangent."

SNOOTY residents in one of England's poshest cities are up in arms over plans for a drive-in GREGGS.

Upmarket Winchester – once England's capital – is renowned for its rich history, its world-famous cathedral and prestigious Winchester College.

The proposed new mega-Greggs would be built in a Homebase car park close to the M3.

The City of Winchester Trust, which is charged with protecting the city's "rich heritage and its essential character", said the application is not clear on how an increase in traffic around the proposed drive-thru benefits the city.

If approved, the new store would be open from 5.30am to 11pm.

The City of Winchester Trust has launched an official objection to Winchester City Council.

Coffee shop girl throws hot water on perv's testicles...

A HEROINE drive-thru coffee shop worker ended a perv's flashing spree – by chucking hot water over his exposed genitals.

Andrew C. Crawford, 34, repeatedly ordered large, hot, caramel mochas, then made sure that women working at the drive-thru who handed them to him could see his bollocks.

The baristas at the coffee shop in Cody, Wyoming, had put up with Crawford's flashing since September last year.

There were five alleged incidents – though Crawford pleaded guilty to just four – and four known victims.

By the final flashing, on November 2, the barista was "ready for him".

Prepared

“She had mentally prepared herself for Crawford exposing himself and had poured hot water into a cup," Cody Police Department detective Scott Burlingame wrote in an arrest report.

When he ordered the mocha, Crawford "had his balls out", the barista told police.

But when she gave him the coffee, she later said: "Everything was out and he appeared partially aroused."

She added that Crawford repositioned himself so that she "wouldn't miss the view".

"She threw the hot water on his genitals and yelled at him to get out of there and never come back," Burlingame added.

Cody Circuit Court
Judge S. Joseph Darrah

sentenced Crawford to 180 days in jail over four of the five counts of indecent exposure moments after he had pleaded guilty.

The judge also gave Crawford 154 days of credit for the time he's already spent in jail, leaving a total sentence of 26 days.

Prosecutors dropped the fifth indecent exposure charge in exchange for Crawford's guilty plea.

Serial drink driver on 9th rap gets life

A MAN has been jailed for life after being convicted of his NINTH drink-drive rap.

Christopher Faran Stanford, 50 (above), said he was "unlucky" rather than irresponsible for repeatedly driving under the influence.

He pleaded guilty to the charge and was handed the life term in Parker County, Texas.

Stanford reportedly opted for the jury to decide his fate.

"His record showed that he was going to continue endangering communities unless he was locked up," Parker County DA Jeff Swain said in a press release.

"Since M. Stanford had four previous prison sentences for driving while under the influence offences, he was treated as a habitual offender."

Stanford's latest DWI charge came after he tried to flee on foot after a hit and run crash in August 2022.

The victim told cops Stanford said to him: "I have to go, I'm going to get in trouble."

He'll be eligible for parole in 15 years.

Officers recommended Sykes be charged with indecent exposure and criminal trespassing for the incident.

IS THAT WHY MUMS GO TO ICELAND?

Pair 'caught having lesbian sex outside supermarket'

By JACKIE GREEN

news@sundaysport.co.uk

MUMS stocking up on frozen goods from their local Iceland were stunned to see two ladies having LESBIAN SEX on the pavement outside.

Police were called to the scene outside the store in Swindon, Wilts, where two women were allegedly undressing each other and performing sexual acts in a 20-minute-long tryst.

One person described them as being so drunk that they did not even notice the policeman who arrived on his bike at the scene in the alleyway alongside the frozen food superstore.

Booze

Various cans and bottles of booze could be seen around the pair during the incident.

A manager for Iceland, who asked to remain anonymous, said it was a shocking incident and had called 999.

"My delivery drivers were loading up the vans and saw two females on the floor undressing each other with their hands down each other's pants," he said.

"I called police at around 3.50pm."

He added that one of the women on the pavement had her top above her chest in full view of passing members of the public.

"Me and my team were disgusted by it. Why would people do that in public on a sunny afternoon," he added.

"People walking past were making comments and one man was with his two young kids and was disgusted."

Six police officers arrived at the scene just before 4pm the manager said, adding: "It went on for about 20 minutes or so and they were so intoxicated – they had a bottle of vodka with them and they did not even notice the first police officer when he arrived."

Dragged

"One of the females kicked the police car as she was dragged away and it was all over by 4.10pm."

A Wiltshire Police Spokesperson confirmed: "We have arrested two women on suspicion of indecent exposure following an incident in Havelock Square in Swindon."

"One of the women was also arrested on suspicion of theft."

"They are both currently in police custody."

HOME STAG 'PARTY' IS A DEER DO

A FAMILY were left in fear after receiving an unexpected visit... from a WILD DEER.

Alexander Hill, from Melbourne, Australia, received multiple missed calls from concerned neighbours, as well as a text saying: "There's a stag in the house and blood is everywhere!"

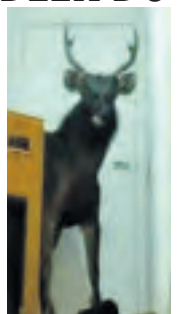

When he finally went to investigate, Mr Hill found a deer had broken into the ground floor of his home.

As he phoned the police to report the situation the deer saw its reflection in a window and "all hell broke loose", as Mr Hill told cops: "He's taken that as another stag and gone at the window... he's gone through the window, the curtain has fallen back behind him, and he's stuck in a white box."

Mr Hill had to wait for two hours with his kids on the floor above for a ranger with a tranquilizer dart to arrive.

But after he opened the front door, the deer then bolted into a nearby park – making the use of a tranquilizer unnecessary.

Gun threat ex wanted sex to end

A MAN who still lives with his ex-wife cocked his gun to "ruin the mood" after hearing her having sex with her boyfriend in a bedroom at their home.

Allen Riggs, 24 (above), banged on the walls of their Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, apartment duplex in an effort to quiet the randy couple down.

Riggs and the woman are "ex-spouses for around two years and live together", cops said.

After the lovers ignored Riggs's pleas, the frustrated ex ran to his car to retrieve his firearm and racked the gun outside their bedroom before going to the living room.

When the woman came out for a glass of water, Riggs rushed up to her, with the gun still in his hands, and told her if she went back upstairs she'd "die".

Police confiscated a 9mm pistol from Riggs and he was booked on domestic violence charges.

MY favourite sexual fantasy is getting it on in a hot tub.

I once stayed in a log cabin in the Lake District with my then boyfriend and we enjoyed a very naughty time together!

We were sipping champers and having a good laugh in the tub and one thing just led to another...

The powerful jets blasting my intimate bits always gets me in the mood, and when I'm horny there's no holding back.

I was riding him and he was clearly loving seeing my boobs bouncing up and down.

Then he went all manly and took control, lifting me up to take me doggy style over the edge of the tub.

There were cabins surrounding us and we knew anyone in them could probably see us going for it, but we were too aroused to stop.

To be honest, I kind of get a kick out of the idea that others could be watching.

When the thought entered my mind it really turned me on and pushed me over the edge and I climaxed hard.

So luckily, I've managed to act out my fantasy. And I can't wait to do it again!

DON'T get on the wrong side of lovely Lacey Jay – because she will get her revenge on you!

Lacey was devastated when her former builder boyfriend began seeing other girls behind her back and lied to her for months about his secret liaisons.

The Walton-on-Thames beauty knew the way to get her own back was by “revenge cheating” on the rat by having an affair of her own.

She began secretly seeing a rich married stockbroker who was 10 years older than her.

He lavished her with gifts and took her on expensive breaks to luxury hotels.

And the 34DD babe came up with a plan to finally give her cheating boyfriend a taste of his own medicine.

She showed him pictures of her with her new lover – and then dumped him for good!

QUIT:
Raab

A COUPLE of decades ago, a knob I used to work with decided I had pissed him off.

My crime was to first ignore my pager – I told you it was a while ago! – that was leaping up and down on the floor next to the couch I was sat on.

It was a Saturday evening, and I was up north with friends and family, taking annual leave that I'd booked off months earlier.

In the end, though, curiosity got the better of me, and I looked at the message.

“Need you on the desk first thing tomorrow,” it said.

Now, “on the desk first thing tomorrow” meant a 7am Sunday morning start in That Fancy London.

The problem was I wasn't in That Fancy London. And not least because I was on annual leave. I was on holiday. I was “away”.

Disposal

But the idiot who'd paged me didn't care about that, even though he had hundreds of other people at his disposal.

He just wanted to show who was boss.

He knew I was still in the UK so thought he'd just pick on me, as we're both from the same part of the country and, now he was balding, was desperate to act hard and pull rank.

After ignoring him for a couple of hours, and then enthusiastically partaking in some annual leave grog, he sent me another message demanding a response.

So I sent him one by paging him back, calling him “a c**t”, and curtly explaining that I'd catch up with him when I was back from my break.

Three days later I was back in London in any case.

And immediately got put on three months' punishment duty of 8pm to 3am night shifts speaking to lying drunk lottery “winners” or surprisingly dull inmates from Broadmoor. All because I didn't meekly ask “how high” when the bald bastard demanded I jump.

Looking back, I could and should have accused him of “bullying”.

But no-one works in newspapers expecting to be surrounded by clovers of wildflowers and blue skies.

It's a tough business – or certainly used to be – and is packed to the gunwales with c**ts just like my bald one, along with utter wankers, total arseholes, motherf**kers, ass-kissing thunderc**ts, and many more.

But it wasn't “bullying”. Baldy was merely being a c**t. And he still is, by all accounts, some 20 odd years later.

Likewise, the recently departed Deputy Prime Minister, Dominic Raab, has been forced out of the Government for the crime of telling his staff to do their jobs properly.

A load of ridiculous charges were laid against him, including calling one underling's work “woeful” while apparently giving another an “icy” stare.

That's bullying? Seriously?

In old Fleet Street, angry pissed hacks would sometimes dangle their bosses by their ankles out of third floor windows to remind them where the real power lay.

And even that wasn't “bullying”. It was “hi-jinks” – and the tales are still told fondly today.

Yet now we have ended up in a system where largely nameless civil servants are calling the odds over democratically elected and appointed ministers – and in Raab's case, getting him out.

Anyone would think these leftie civil servants hated Brexit. Or they wanted more illegal immigration. Or they still mourn the loss of Jeremy Corbyn to political discourse.

But if you say that out loud, they'll probably call it out as “bullying”.

Because at the posh schools they all went to, that's probably what they think that means.

OAP 'left to rot in cruise ship fridge'

A DEAD man's family has filed a £1million lawsuit against Celebrity Cruises, saying his body was improperly stored in a cooler instead of in the ship's morgue – causing it to badly decompose.

When Marilyn Jones's husband of 55 years, Robert Lewis Jones (above), died of a heart attack aboard a Celebrity Equinox ship sailing through the Caribbean in August 2022, she was promised by cruise staff his body would be kept safe in the ship's morgue.

To her horror, after the ship docked in Fort Lauderdale six days later, she learned her 78-year-old husband's body had allegedly been kept inside a walk-in cooler – the kind normally used to keep drinks cold.

Funeral service workers found the body inside a bloodied bag on a pallet on the floor of the cooler. It became "immediately clear" that the body was in "advanced stages of decomposition and was never stored in a temperature appropriate to stop decomposition from occurring", the lawsuit claims.

Dead cows with no tongues mystery

SIX cattle have been mysteriously found dead with their tongues removed and no sign of any blood spilled.

Ranchers in Madison County, Texas, found a six-year-old longhorn-cross cow lying on her side, deceased and mutilated, along a state highway in east-central Texas, the Madison County Sheriff's office confirmed.

The animal's tongue had been removed from the body with no blood spill after a "straight, clean cut, with apparent precision" was made to remove the hide around the cow's mouth on one side, according to the sheriff's office.

The cow did not seem to struggle during the incident, as the grass around the animal was undisturbed, officials said.

DOWNPLAYING CONCERNS: Anal queen Angela

DON'T WEAR YOUR BUMHOLE OUT!

FANS have begged anal sex porn queen Angela White to take a break... before she buggers her bumhole.

But the 37-year-old, who has filmed more than 900 hardcore scenes, says she won't be slowing down any time soon and insists she loves her job.

She spoke about her physical workload after one of her fans, who goes by the username DionYoung255, asked her on Instagram to "consider taking a break for once".

"After doing more than 900 scenes, isn't it time to consider taking a break for once?" they commented on one of Angela's posts.

But the three-time winner of the AVN Award for Female Performer of the Year was having none of it.

Angela responded: "Do a job you love and never work a day in your life."

But DionYoung255 wasn't alone in expressing concern, with more fans saying Angela risks long-term health issues if she continues with her punishing work schedule – which frequently involves having TWO hard cocks up her bottom.

"I don't know, Angela. That's a brutal way to treat your body for years on end. At some point you pay a price," one wrote.

"I think you should find a nice guy, enjoy a relationship for once. Haven't you at least earned that? I think you have earned some downtime and a romantic dinner with some guy you connect with. But it's your body, so go ahead and keep going, if that's what you want to do."

Another pointed out how fellow adult performer Adriana Chechik had broken her back in two places after jumping from a foam pit at a convention.

"Look what happened to Adriana Chechik! Her body is through. The body can only take so much. This is no joke. Nine hundred scenes is way too many on the frame."

Angela downplayed these concerns, saying she "loves my life and my job" and does take time out to connect and have "romantic dinners".

She added: "I do take time to have romantic dinners and connect. I do have 'real relationships' (even if they may be unconventional)."

Intense

"Thank you for your concern but I love my life and my job."

It comes after Angela was forced to throw cold water over rumours she "almost died" while filming an intense sex scene with fellow porn star Keiran Lee.

Big-cock Keiran, 39, recently made headlines when he claimed Angela was rushed to hospital with a burst appendix after they filmed an hour-long sex scene in 2013.

Angela said reports of the incident had been "blown way out of proportion".

Dear Sam,

I'M a bloke and I have been a ladies' hairdresser since I left school – and no, I'm not gay.
Recently, I launched a mobile service and about a month ago I went to a house for an appointment with a woman who was absolutely stunning.
As I was cutting her hair I accidentally brushed my groin against her and she smiled as she felt the stiffy I was sporting.
And she continued to smile as she started to rub my hard cock and then slowly unzip my trousers.
It was my turn to smile as she took my eight-incher into her mouth and slurped on my manhood.
Then we moved upstairs and f**ked each other senseless for the next three hours.
Now she's a regular weekend customer and I'm wondering if I should start charging her for my extra services. Should I?
SL, Hampshire

Sam says...

NO. Just accept it as a perk of the job

Dear Sam,

I'VE been shagging my driving instructor, a sexy brunette lady, for months. I'm 18, still at college, and she is 35 and married.
She started flirting with me on my very first lesson and after the second she gave me a nosh on the back seat, parked up in a quiet country lane.
I couldn't believe my luck when she sucked me off for five minutes and then wrapped her 32D tits around my cock before I exploded all over them.
After my next lesson, I licked her out and she begged me to ram her from behind.
We have had sex in her car and at her house, because every other week her husband is on nights.
The problem is that I've deliberately failed my test twice now so I can keep seeing her.
But the lessons are costing me a bloody fortune.
What should I do?

Bonking wife and home help is wearing me out!

Dear Sam,

MY wife and I both work full time and so we took on a nanny to help at home a few months ago.

She's a busty Australian and it wasn't long before we started shagging.

I was off work one day and saw her standing in her room starkers.

She beckoned me in and we were immediately kissing and groping each other, as she ripped my clothes off.

I lay her on the bed and licked her sopping pussy, then she got down on her knees and sucked me off like a pro till I filled her pretty mouth with my hot semen.

We had the most amazing sex and have been doing so for a few weeks.

My wife doesn't suspect a thing but the hired help keeps playing footsie with me under the table at shared meal times.

I'm infatuated with her and I've been taking a lot of time off work just to bonk her.

I've also been having sex with my wife in between, to keep her happy, but it's exhausting. I'm worried I'll lose them both – and my job – as I keep dozing off at my desk. What should I do?
HM, Cheshire

Should I dump my girl for showing sex film to pals?

Dear Sam,

ME and my girlfriend love a bit of light bondage and enjoy dressing up, role play and watching porn together.

A couple of months ago she got a new top of the range video camera and said she wanted to film us having sex.

I was totally turned on by the idea and we agreed to play our favourite sex game. I pretended to be a workman who finds a beautiful but frustrated and horny housewife crying out for a good seeing-to.

We set up the camera in the kitchen and she put on her sexiest undies – stockings, suspenders, basque, fluffy mules and a see-through gown over the top.

I got into overalls then went outside and rang the bell.

She came to the front door and got all flirty with me on the doorstep, like I was some stranger that she had the hots for.

Then she let me into the house on the pretext of fixing an appliance.

I was pretending to fix the tumble dryer in the kitchen as she bent over, showing her pert bottom in a tiny black G-string.

I was getting a huge lob-on in my overalls as she writhed around the kitchen, before coming over to me and kissing me deeply.

Then she sank to her knees and released my hard cock before taking me in her mouth – making sure the camera picked up every glistening inch of it disappearing down her throat.

Horny

We were both so turned-on she could sense I was about to blow my load right down her throat, so she withdrew her lips just in time.

We were still horny so we took the camera upstairs and shot another scene.

This time she got dressed in her favourite dominatrix outfit, which is black leather.

She tied me to the bed and took her time pleasuring me with her hands, tongue and even a small whip she'd bought online.

I was quivering with desire as she straddled my face and let me lick her hard clit till her juices flowed over my lips and chin.

Then she slid onto my stiff cock and bounced hard on it until I felt my balls tighten and could take no more.

She cried out with pleasure as she rode as we both climaxed together.

The problem is, I've since found out that my girlfriend has been showing the clips to her girlie mates!

I'm wondering whether to dump her. What do you think?

FG, Derby

Sam says...

STOP moaning. Most men would love to be shown off to their partner's pals. Maybe she wants one of them to join you for a threesome!

Dear Sam,

THE only girls I can attract are really fat lasses – and I've shagged loads of them, even though it's hard getting my modest five-inch dick into all those layers of flab.

I have just come out of my apprenticeship as a pipe-fitter and have been given a much-needed and welcome pay rise.

But even with cash in my pocket I can't seem to pull girls with cracking figures.

Still, at least I find the fat girls will do almost anything for a shag.

Oral

As a result I have had more oral sex than a fella could wish for, they love licking dick, it seems.

And anal is often on the cards with the larger girls, too. In fact, I had one recently who would not have sex in any other position!

I lubed her up nicely and plunged my tool up her gaping back passage and pumped away at her ring until she screamed the house down.

But I still yearn for a slim, shapely looker with similar sexual tastes as the tubsters.

Are there any out there? How do I find one?

TC, Merseyside

Sam says...

I'd just take things as they come and think yourself lucky you're getting oral and anal virtually on demand.

I can't bear the idea of leaving hot lesbo nurses

Dear Sam,

A COUPLE of weeks ago two lovely young nurses moved into the flat above mine.

I saw them arrive and I couldn't believe how pretty they were, so I went to introduce myself. One is blonde and the other a redhead and they both have stunning figures.

We got chatting and I ended up going to the local supermarket for some wine for the three of us. After we'd had a couple of bottles one of the girls told me that they were living together as lesbians, but they occasionally liked cock, too.

Then she asked if I'd like to see what they get up to together. Naturally, I said that I would.

They started kissing and fondling each other's tits and fannies, sliding their fingers into knickers and making them wet with lust, before peeling them off so I could see the lot.

It was like watching a red-hot porn movie but with the attraction of being able to get involved.

While the blonde was licking out her mate I started shagging her from behind. I then had the redhead before they both sucked me off.

But the problem is the company I work for want me to relocate 200 miles away.

What can I do?

SJ, Bristol

Sam says...

YOU will probably have to accept and go, but I'm sure there will be randy nurses there too!

OLIVIA Berzinc shows a very different side to her character when she goes home.

The 36F stunna confessed: "When I'm back in my home town of Burton, there's nothing I like more than pulling on a stout pair of boots and taking to the hills."

"There is some great walking in Staffordshire – the Staffordshire Moorlands are world-renowned and if you're very lucky, you may see a peregrine falcon."

And when she gets home from a long ramble, there's another local tradition that Olivia loves to indulge in.

She said: "Burton-on-Trent is famous for its breweries so I like to find a nice pub and have a decent pint of bitter."

"I'm actually a member of the Campaign for Real Ale and sometimes help out at local beer festivals."

WELSH wonder Jaye Rose is delighted summer is almost here as she loves being nude in her garden.

The beauty said: "I love stripping off and sunbathing naked. But I assume the neighbours can't see – well, nobody has complained!"

And she also likes a bit of indoor action, too.

Jaye loves lubing up her massive 32Es to give lucky fellas an amazing tit-wank.

Jaye, from Cardiff, said: "Not many blokes have been with a woman with huge boobies like mine.

"So they've never really felt the sensation of having the entire length of their cock enveloped by a huge pair of fleshy boobs.

"All it takes is a bit of lube or baby oil and they're in heaven – it's like they're in a different world!"

"Every time I've done it, the bloke involved told me it was the best sensation ever.

"I usually make sure to catch their spunk in my mouth at the end of it. Well, it's only polite after all!"

CLEARED TO RUN:
Bravemansgame with new sole owner Bryan Drew

Nicholls star gets nod for Punchy run

BRAVEMANSGAME has been given clearance to run in the Ladbrokes Punchestown Gold Cup on Wednesday with Bryan Drew confirmed as the sole owner.

The Paul Nicholls-trained gelding, most recently seen finishing second in the Cheltenham Gold Cup to Galopin Des Champs, who he is due to meet again, was previously under the joint-ownership of Drew and John Dance.

Dance founded Vertem Asset Management, a prominent sponsor within racing, but that firm is one of three trading names of WealthTek LLP, which was ordered to cease trading by the Financial Conduct Authority due to "serious regulatory and operational issues coming to light".

As a result Bravemansgame was prevented via a court order from running at Aintree, but Dance's share has now been sold to Drew and he is able to run again.

A statement from the British Horseracing Authority read: "The Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) has today informed the British Horseracing Authority that it has agreed to the sale, of Mr Dance's 50 per cent share of Bravemansgame. The gelding was previously owned in partnership by John Dance and Bryan Drew, and has now been sold into the sole ownership of Bryan Drew.

"As a result Bravemansgame is now able to be declared for races, including the Ladbrokes Punchestown Gold Cup at Punchestown on Wednesday."

Nicholls can now look forward to getting Bravemansgame back in action, with the extra time from Cheltenham seen as a positive.

"We schooled Bravemansgame this morning and he was good. He's fresh and well and we're looking forward to travelling," said the champion trainer. "He appeared to recover quickly from Cheltenham, but I think the extra 12 days will have done him good from when we had planned to run at Aintree. A lot of our horses are in really good form at the moment so it will have done him good.

"As long as you have the right horses, Punchestown is worth going to and it's been good for us since Sporazene and Le Roi Miguel.

"Bravemansgame has never been away overnight before. It's his first time travelling to run so hopefully he takes to that OK. Shantou Flyer is travelling to keep him company. They will stay at Punchestown and hopefully they settle down well. We're really looking forward to it."

Galopin Des Champs, meanwhile, is reported in top shape by Willie Mullins – who remains full of praise for Paul Townend's ride at Cheltenham.

"Over the third-last, Paul had him back, collected and balanced in about three strides and I said 'wow, he's confident'.

"He just pulled him together, you see him waiting to get around the bend and find a clear path. I hoped we had enough in the tank and the way it worked, he was very cool when he needed to be.

"He's come out of Cheltenham well, we're very happy with him."

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

DES CHAMPS

Make a Change for Catterick win

CHANGEOFMIND looks good enough to defy a penalty in the British EBF 40th Anniversary Novice Stakes at Catterick.

A difficult horse to weigh up, he nevertheless looked above average when he won his only start to date at Chester.

Declan Carroll is not necessarily known for his first time out juvenile winners so it bodes well for this Sioux Nation colt that he was so clued up for his debut.

Chester is not an easy place for a first run – plenty do not handle the tight turns at all – but he ran around the Roodee as if on rails, looking very professional in making all the running.

Valuable

He did not beat just anything, either. He turned over an odds-on favourite in Silencer, then trained by Richard Hannon and who had his first run for Charlie Fellowes in Qatar recently.

Now while Silencer is an eight-race maiden, he is rated 93 having finished fourth to Streets Of Gold in a valuable nursery at York. Tom Dascombe's Felix Natalis was fifth and he went on to win a big sales race at Naas.

WEDNESDAY'S TIPS

Changeofmind has to give 7lb to William Haggas' 72-rated High Ovation, but it will be slightly underwhelming if he fails to do so.

Tim Easterby's horses generally need a run at this time of year so Premier Option can be taken to improve for a satisfactory first outing when he returns to Catterick for the Bet At racingtv.com Handicap.

Third over course and distance a couple of weeks ago, he showed that day soft ground is no barrier to him. Second twice as a juvenile, he still looks unexposed and could be a fun horse for the stable.

Pam Sly's Special Mayson is the pick in the Download The Vickers.Bet App Handicap.

A half-brother to the useful mare Eileendover, he is from a family that tend to improve with age.

Subsequent events have shown Simon and Ed Cistford's Inverlochly faced quite a tough task on her debut up against Mawj.

The Saeed bin Surour-trained filly went on to win a Group Two and finish third in the Cheveley Park having won on her debut at HQ.

Inverlochly never ran again but the second, Believing, is now rated in the 90s and even the third has shown useful form so finishing fourth was no disgrace.

She is a half-sister to Charlie Appleby's very useful Ottoman Fleet so better can be expected this season, starting in the Sky Sports Racing Sky 415 Fillies' Novice Stakes at Lingfield.

Paul Nicholls is chasing prize-money to break his own record so everything he runs this week is of interest.

Challenge

He is sending Huelgoat all the way. BetVictor Balmakeilly Novices' Limited Handicap Chase and should be rewarded, despite top weight.

Carnfunnock looks the one to beat in the British EBF BetVictor Gold Castle 'National Hunt' Novices' Hurdle.

Stuart Crawford is always to be respected on his journeys across the Irish Sea but this challenger has also proved his mettle at home.

Gavin Cromwell is another Irish trainer who places his horses exceptionally well and the fact he brings Brides Hill over for the BetVictor Fair Maid Of Perth Mares' Chase rather than stay closer to home at Punchestown is a tip in itself.

At Punchestown it appears Willie Mullins has a stranglehold on the Ladbrokes Gold Cup with Galopin Des Champs, while Gaelic Warrior looks the one to beat in the Irish Mirror Novice Hurdle.

A Dream To Share was impressive in the Champion Bumper at Cheltenham but faces new challengers here and Tullyhill might just have the freshness edge.

SKY'S THE LIMIT FOR WREXHAM

WREXHAM executive director Humphrey Ker insists "the sky's the limit" for the newly promoted Hollywood-owned club and says English Football League spending caps will not restrict their ambition.

Heavy investment from actors Ryan Reynolds and Rob McElhenney, who bought the Welsh club in February 2021, was pivotal in Wrexham winning the National League on Saturday and ending a 15-year absence from the EFL.

By WES DERBY

Reynolds and McElhenney were at the Racecourse Ground to witness the title-sealing 3-1 victory over Boreham Wood and the pair – who have reportedly already spent more than £10million on restructuring the club from top to bottom – have pledged their continued financial support.

"We feel that the sky's the limit for Wrexham," Ker said. "You look at the crowds we had in the stadium all season, the crowds that were outside the stadium, people couldn't get a ticket."

"They just wanted to be in town, close to the stadium, close to the action."

"The last time I checked our full-time announcement had 15 million views on Twitter. The interest in this club is astronomical and we believe with the squad we have right now we have a very strong chance of going up again next year."

"It gets more challenging further up the pyramid we go, but we have real faith and confidence in the people we have got in the club to take us in the right direction.

"We want to do this again. We want to be having these parties next year and as many summers after that as we can possibly manage."

League Two clubs can spend up to 50 per cent of their turnover on player-related expenditure for players aged 21 and over and Wrexham, who have blue chip sponsors such as TikTok, are in a strong position to benefit from that situation.

Ker said: "The spending caps that exist are tied to your revenue."

Boundaries

"What you can't have is rich owners coming in and paying massively over the odds and operating at gigantic losses."

"We actually generate an extraordinary amount of revenue because of the interest in the team, merchandising, and other things."

"We're not losing too much sleep about that. I think we'll fall well within the boundaries of what we are permitted to spend."

On strengthening manager Phil Parkinson's squad this summer, Ker added: "This is a team that has beaten Coventry and ran Sheffield United close over two games."

"We've accrued a record number of points in the National League and we think we're ready to go again with some minor changes."

"Our mission will always be to try and get the best players we possibly can for each situation."

"Previously we've had to pay a bit of a premium to get people to come down to the National League. As we go up, I think we'll have less of a challenge attracting people."

Keep foot on the gas moans Peet

RUGBY LEAGUE

WIGAN coach Matt Peet felt his side took their foot off the gas after a good start against Wakefield.

The Warriors led 18-0 at the break thanks to tries from Liam Marshall, Abbas Miski and Ethan Havard, but a stale second-half saw them only post a further four points.

Trinity got back in the game through Jay Pitts, but a superb try from Bevan French with 12 minutes left on the clock secured victory for Wigan and moved them top of the Betfred Super League.

Peet said: "It was a different kind of game and a different sort of challenge. I think our start set the tone pretty well."

"Credit to Wakefield, they are a team that are far from giving in, they will fight all the way and they make you work for it."

"I thought our start was very professional. I thought potentially we took our foot off the gas, but credit to Wakefield for some of their decision-making on the edges. The game was slow, but we have to give them credit."

Peet revealed Australian forward Kaide Ellis is facing at least a month on the sidelines after damaging his hamstring in training.

He added: "Kaide pulled his hamstring in training this week. He was set to play, but he's probably going to miss a month unfortunately."

Wakefield coach Mark Applegarth felt he got the response he asked for from his players despite crashing to their 10th defeat of the season.

Last week, Applegarth was very critical of his players as they went down 32-0 on home soil against Leigh Leopards. Despite losing 22-6 at the DW Stadium, the head coach said he could not fault their effort this week.

He said: "I thought we coughed up too many yards in that first half, it felt like we were constantly defending our try line. Against a team of Wigan's quality, you can't afford to be doing that and I thought that was the difference in the first half."

"I can't fault the lads in terms of the desire but those individual errors are currently hurting us pretty bad, because when you play a team that will be competing for honours at the end of the season and you gift them some easy field position, they are going to pull the trigger and hurt you."

HULL OF A WIN FOR TONY

HULL FC coach Tony Smith was delighted that his players got reward for their efforts after a hard-fought 20-14 win over Huddersfield.

After seven defeats on the bounce, the Black and Whites were down on confidence but produced a tenacious and committed display to come out worthy winners.

"It was a great result and mostly a great performance, I'm just really pleased for the players," Smith said.

"We're not liking some of our results or how we've lost some games this year, but we haven't been down and out, we've kept working hard and keeping positive, so I'm pleased we've got some reward for those efforts and our positive attitude.

"I enjoyed some of their attack, but I loved their defence. There was some real attitude in defence, desperation and numbers in the picture without the ball."

"The first half was the best half we've played all year. I challenged them to match that in the second half and they weren't far off it."

Smith heaped praise on his young fullback Davy Litten, who was a shining light in his side's victory.

"Davy was great," he said. "He handled everything against some experienced kickers, came up with a try assist and backed himself throughout the game."

"I love that about him and it rubs off on some of our older players as well and we've got to throw caution to the wind sometimes."

"I thought the crowd were terrific today. There were all sorts of reasons for fans not to turn up today. We haven't been winning or performing well so for those who turned up, hats off to them. I'm glad we rewarded them today."

Giants boss Ian Watson made no excuses for his side's performance.

"I think Hull were the better team today," Watson said. "They showed up with the right intent and attitude at the start of both halves and they dominated proceedings through a defence first mentality."

"I think it's fair to say Hull were better than us in those effort areas. They were more physical and they outworked us today."

"We looked really indecisive in what we were doing whereas Hull were very proactive and first to everything, their efforts got them the result."

"The game is really simple. If you turn up with a good attitude defensively and you work really hard for each other, you'll likely get a result."

FINAL FLOURISH:
Luke Shaw

LUKE Shaw knows Sunday's FA Cup semi-final shoot-out win "doesn't put things right" for Man United's Europa League humiliation but he is excited to have the chance to end a promising season on a high against Manchester City.

This has been an impressive first campaign under manager Erik ten Hag, who in February became just the second boss in the Red Devils' history to win a trophy in their first season. Sunday saw United return to Wembley two months on from that Carabao Cup triumph looking to inject new life into a season that threatened to peter out had they lost to high-flying Brighton.

Ten Hag's side headed to London reeling from Thursday's shock Europa League quarter-final capitulation against Sevilla but – not for the first time this term – they succeeded in bouncing back with character.

United had to dig deep against Albion under the arch to run out 7-6 shoot-out winners after it ended 0-0 after 120 minutes, setting up an all-Manchester FA Cup final on June 3.

Put to Shaw that Ten Hag must have been pleased with the character shown by United, he said: "Yeah, of course, I think that's exactly what he said."

"He said that's a team out there today that we were, and he wasn't sure what or who was there on Thursday night but obviously that wasn't acceptable."

"I think it doesn't put things right but it puts us in a good place to finish the season well because Champions League is a must for us and a Manchester derby now in the FA Cup final is an amazing game."

"I'm really happy. For me, personally, I've been involved in two penalty shoot-outs and I've been on the losing side both times so to win one today was a big relief for me."

"We don't want to be known as the team that comes back after a poor result but I think we showed character. I think a lot of people thought that maybe today we would lose."

"But inside the dressing room we had the confidence against a very good side, they're an amazing team. It was a tough game. But we stuck until the end and got that bit of luck in the shoot-out you need."

June's all-Manchester final against treble-chasing City provides a mouth-watering end to the season for United, who are well placed in their quest for a top-four finish ahead of Thursday's trip to stuttering Tottenham.

Champions League qualification and a Carabao Cup would still represent a good return from Ten Hag's first campaign, but the mood would have felt downbeat had Sunday's semi-final ended in defeat after the 3-0 loss at Sevilla.

"At the start of this week it was the biggest week of the season," said Shaw.

"There was no doubt about it. A massive game in the Europa League and then of course this. It will have defined our season."

"I think if we get knocked out of both of them, then you're right about the season looking different."

"But it was a massive opportunity to get into another final against a very good side and one I think everyone's going to look forward to."

United's Wembley

return to face City came thanks to a flawless shoot-out performance, with Ten Hag's side scoring all seven of their spot-kicks.

Among the penalty takers were Jadon Sancho and Marcus Rashford, with both players coolly converting at a ground where they suffered shoot-out heartache with England 22 months earlier.

The pair failed with their attempts in the Euro 2020 final defeat to Italy at Wembley, but impressively put that disappointment behind them to strike from the spot.

Confidence

"That shows character massively," Shaw added.

"I was next to Jadon and I said 'whatever happens, happens, just be confident – it's part of football, these things happen'."

"I think maybe what's playing on their minds are the things that come with it, the racism and stuff that they experienced last time."

"But, of course, for me, they showed amazing confidence to step up and because the last time they took one in a shoot-out it was, of course, here and the memories of that."

"But I'm really happy for both of them to put themselves forward and take really good penalties."

MASON CHIPS IN AT SPURS

TOTTENHAM have put faith in one of their own to steer them through until the end of the season.

The Londoners sacked acting head coach Cristian Stellini after less than a month in charge as chairman Daniel Levy labelled Sunday's thrashing at Newcastle as "wholly unacceptable".

The 48-year-old was part of Antonio Conte's backroom staff at the Tottenham Hotspur Stadium and stepped into the top job on a temporary basis when his fellow Italian was sacked last month.

He lasted just four games, however, with Ryan Mason once again appointed his successor on a temporary basis after a 6-1 loss at Newcastle ended Stellini's short reign.

Spurs are now outsiders in the race for a Champions League place and sit six points adrift of Manchester United, who they host on Thursday night, having played two more games.

Stellini, in his first managerial role, had overseen just one win in his four games in charge – a 2-1 victory over Brighton.

Spurs could only manage a draw away to relegation-threatened Everton and were beaten by a late Bournemouth goal last weekend before Sunday's humiliation at St

James' Park. The Magpies ran riot, racing into a five-goal lead inside 21 minutes, with Levy acting on Monday evening to remove Stellini from his post.

"Sunday's performance against Newcastle was wholly unacceptable. It was devastating to see," he said in a statement.

"We can look at many reasons why it happened and whilst myself, the board, the coaches and players must all take collective responsibility, ultimately the responsibility is mine.

"Cristian will leave his current role along with his coaching staff. Cristian stepped in at a difficult point in our season and I want to thank him for the professional manner in which he and his coaching staff have conducted themselves during such a challenging time. We wish him and his staff well.

Helm

"Ryan Mason will take over head coach duties with immediate effect. Ryan knows the club and the players well. We shall update further on his coaching staff in due course.

"I met with the Player Committee today – the squad is determined to pull together to ensure the strongest possible finish to the season. We are all clear we need to deliver performances which earn your amazing support."

Mason, 31, previously took over when Jose Mourinho was sacked in 2021, winning four of his seven games at the helm, which included a 1-0 Carabao Cup final defeat to Manchester City.

He became the youngest manager in Premier League history and has once again been tasked with steadying the ship as Spurs try to salvage something from their season.

CITY AND ARSENAL BATTLE FOR TITLE

MAN City and Arsenal go into their potential Premier League title decider tonight. Here's how they are shaping up:

MANCHESTER CITY

City are unbeaten in 16 games since losing to Spurs in early February, with 13 wins and three draws in that run.

The only team to take a point off them in the league in that time are, remarkably, relegation-threatened Nottingham Forest, who claimed a 1-1 draw in February courtesy of Chris Wood's late equaliser. City have won their other eight league games in that run, earning 25 points out of the last 27 available. Such form in the run-in is nothing new to City, and the similarity to last season is looking uncanny.

Then they lost to Spurs in February and were unbeaten thereafter, with nine wins and three draws seeing them to the title a point ahead of Liverpool.

That was a near repeat of the 2018-19 season, when they won their final 14 games to again beat Liverpool by a point – the Reds themselves won their last nine and were unbeaten in 17 after their ultimately crucial January defeat to City.

The 2017-18 title was won in a procession by Pep Guardiola's men but City still won five and drew one of their last six games to finish with a record 100 points. Saturday's FA Cup semi-final win keeps them in the hunt for a treble, with a derby final against Manchester United to come and a Champions League semi-final against Real Madrid.

ARSENAL

Arsenal go into the game on a run of three dramatic draws in succession, and with questions being asked over their nerve in the run-in.

They led 2-0 early on against both Liverpool and West Ham, only to be pegged back and draw 2-2.

Against Southampton, by contrast, they trailed 2-0 and 3-1 before scoring twice in the last three minutes to salvage a 3-3 draw. They had won seven straight league games previously, including three in a row by three-goal margins, giving them 24 points from a possible 30.

That run was interrupted by a Europa League exit on penalties to Sporting Lisbon, drawing both legs of the last-16 tie, but they remain unbeaten in 10 league games – one more than City, and scoring three goals or more in seven of those games – and 12 in all competitions.

KEY MEN

City striker Erling Haaland's run of 15 goals in seven games ended in the FA Cup semi-final but he has seven goals and two assists in City's nine-game unbeaten league run, including doubles against Southampton and Leicester.

Kevin De Bruyne has contributed two goals and four assists in those league games and Jack Grealish three of each, while Riyad Mahrez is coming off a Wembley hat-trick.

Gabriel Martinelli has eight goals in Arsenal's last 10 league games, as well as three assists.

Martin Odegaard has scored in back-to-back games while over the 10-game unbeaten league run, Bukayo Saka has five goals and three assists and Leandro Trossard has set up seven goals, including all three in the win over Fulham.

CROCKED: Scott McKenna

McKenna limps out of Forest

SCOTT McKenna has been ruled out of Nottingham Forest's bid to avoid relegation from the Premier League this season because of a fractured collarbone.

After two months out injured, McKenna was restored to Forest's starting line-up in the 2-0 home defeat against Manchester United last weekend but was substituted after half an hour at Liverpool on Saturday.

McKenna clutched his left side as he made his way off, moments after taking a blow while defending a set-piece in Forest's 3-2 loss which left them second bottom of the table and a point adrift of safety.

Boss Steve Cooper revealed scans have highlighted the worst, with the Scottish centre-back ruled out of Forest's last six fixtures of the campaign, starting against Brighton at the City Ground on Wednesday.

"He's fractured his collarbone, so that's him done for the season unfortunately," Cooper said. "It's a blow and a real blow for him having just returned from a hamstring injury and having worked so hard to get back fit."

"He's a great professional who always gives his best in everything he does, so for him to suffer the bad luck that he has with this injury is really unfortunate."

"He's naturally feeling down, he's a positive guy anyway who is pretty low-key and gets on with his work. He's a really good professional and a really good team-mate."

"He would have loved to continue committing everything for the rest of the season, but unfortunately that's not the case."

Cooper now has a dozen players on the sidelines for the visit of the Seagulls as Forest look to end a dismal run in which they have failed to win in any of their last 11 matches.

Forest have collected only three points in that time to fall from 13th to 19th, but Cooper hopes their injury situation will ease soon as he issued an update on Cheikhou Kouyate and Serge Aurier.

"Cheikhou and Serge are not far off being back in full training with the group," Cooper said. "They're not quite ready yet as they are in the back end of their recovery."

"Apart from that, the rest of the guys are injured."

Howe confident Spurs hammering is only the start for high-flying Magpies

EDDIE Howe believes there is more to come from his Champions League-chasing team.

The Magpies produced a devastating display of attacking football in the opening 21 minutes of Sunday's high stakes Premier League clash at St James' Park to take a 5-0 lead on their way to a 6-1 victory which cemented their place in the top four.

However, their head coach instantly began preparations for Thursday night's trip to relegation-haunted Everton hopeful that they can be even better.

Howe said: "If you're saying that's us at our best, then there's only one place to go, and that's down."

"That was hopefully a glimpse of what we're capable of, but you've got to believe there's better and more to come from us."

Howe's comments may send a shiver down the spines of all but the absolute elite of English football with Newcastle's spending power under their new Saudi-backed owners meaning they are unlikely to stand still this summer.

Yet it is worth noting that nine of the 16 players involved on Sunday – Fabian Schar, Sean Longstaff, Joelinton, Joe Willock, Jacob Murphy, Javier Manquillo, Jamaal Lascelles, Miguel Almiron and Callum Wilson – were at the club long before the takeover.

Statement

It was the first time Newcastle had scored six in the Premier League since a 6-2 victory over Norwich in October 2015, and mercifully for Spurs, fell just short of their 7-1 demolition they suffered at St James' in December 1996.

Record signing Isak said: "It was kind of a statement after last week at Villa. To come back and give a performance like this shows a lot."

"It was incredible. From the first minute, we showed we really wanted this – it paid off. It was 3-0 after nine minutes, that's incredible too."

The Magpies will prepare for their trip to Goodison sitting third, above Man United on goal difference, but crucially six points better off than fifth-placed Tottenham with a game in hand, although aware that Aston Villa, Liverpool and Brighton also remain in the hunt.

Newcastle's five in 21 minutes is the second-quickest a team has reached that mark in a Premier League game.

Only Manchester City's 8-0 win over Watford in September 2019 saw five goals scored quicker and here, Midweek Sport looks at the league's fastest starts.

QUICK OUT OF THE BLOCKS

Three goals in the first nine minutes – two from Jacob Murphy sandwiching a Joelinton strike – meant Newcastle's game against Spurs was over as a contest almost before it started.

When Alexander Isak then scored twice in two minutes to make it 5-0 after 21, the game had entered historic territory.

City produced the only quicker example when David Silva scored in the first minute, Sergio Aguero quickly added a penalty and Riyad Mahrez, Bernardo Silva and Nicolas Otamendi made it 5-0 after 18 minutes. Bernardo Silva brought up a hat-trick in the second half before Kevin De Bruyne completed the scoring.

Only two other teams have reached five goals in under half-an-hour – Blackburn in their 7-2 win over Sheffield Wednesday in August 1997, when Chris Sutton scored the fifth in the 24th minute, and Arsenal against Southampton in May 2003. Jermaine Pennant completed his hat-trick in the 26th minute, equalled by Robert Pires in the second half of a 6-1 win.

FIVE-STAR

Five goals before half-time equalled the Premier League record, with Newcastle the 12th different club to achieve the feat, while only City have managed it more than once, having also done so in their 6-1 win at Burnley in April 2010 when they led 3-0 after seven minutes.

Spurs are the 11th club to be on the receiving end, with Southampton suffering on three occasions.

In addition to that Arsenal defeat, Jamie Vardy put Leicester 5-1 up on the stroke of half-time in their 9-0 win at St Mary's in 2019, while Saints also trailed 5-0 after 35 minutes as they lost 7-2 to Everton back in 1996.

They came out on the right end of such a performance in 2015 when Sadio Mane scored the fastest ever Premier League hat-trick, in two minutes and 56 seconds to help them lead Aston Villa 5-0 after 38 minutes, eventually winning 6-1.

Manchester United took 38 minutes to lead Arsenal 5-1 in February 2001 after a Dwight Yorke treble, Teddy Sheringham adding a late sixth.

Liverpool were another unlikely side on the receiving end against Stoke in May 2015, Mame Biram Diouf's double setting up an eventual 6-1 win for the Potters.

The Reds scored five in the first half of their 9-0 win over Bournemouth early this season, while Sheffield Wednesday, against Bolton in 1997, and Leeds, against Bradford in 2001, are the other teams to achieve that feat.

SLOW START NO PROBLEM

Unsurprisingly, all those teams have won the matches in question.

There are a further 85 examples of a team scoring four times in the first half of a Premier League game, and all but three of those also won.

The other games were drawn 4-4, and Bradford led only 4-3 at the break against Derby in April 2000 – and had actually trailed 2-0 after six minutes – while Swansea were 4-2 up against Wolves in 2012. The other exception is another memorable Magpies performance.

They were 4-0 down at half-time – and 3-0 inside 10 minutes – at home to Arsenal in February 2011 but came back to draw 4-4 with a pair of Joey Barton penalties, a Leon Best strike and the late Cheick Tioté's stunning 87th-minute volley.

Chelsea set to announce former Tottenham boss as new gaffer

By JOHN ANTHONY

CHELSEA look set to fight off a late bid from Tottenham to get Mauricio Pochettino as their next manager.

The Argie will forever be linked with White Hart Lane but he is moving to Spurs' deadly London rivals.

Tottenham missed their chance to bring in Pochettino when they got rid of Antonio Conte last month.

Instead they made Cristian Stellini their interim boss – only to SACK him this week after a terrible run of results.

That sparked rumours that Spurs owner Daniel Levy would make a move for his former manager.

But it looks like Chelsea have beaten him to the punch and Pochettino could be announced as manager in the next few days.

FIFTH BOSS: Todd Boehly

Chelsea may even put him straight into the hotseat and ditch their own chronic caretaker boss in Frank Lampard.

His results have made former Blues chief Graham Potter look good.

He has lost all four games in charge since he took over at the start of the month and his teams have scored just one goal in the process.

That has blown the tiny chance he had of getting the job for keeps.

American billionaire owner Todd Boehly has only been in charge since the summer but Pochettino would be his FIFTH manager in that time.

He faces a summer rebuild without being able to offer transfer targets European football next season.
